

The Histochemical And Cytochemical Localization Of Proteases

by Philip L Sannes

Molecular Aspects of Bioelectricity - Google Books Result . was to quantitate biochemically and to localize histochemically the proteases Dipeptidyl aminopeptidase II (DAP II) was demonstrated cytochemically in rat The Histochemical and Cytochemical Localization of Proteases . Many enzymes, and particularly proteases, are present in cells and tissue . Therefore, histochemical or cytochemical localization of the activity of an enzyme Journal of Investigative Dermatology - Abstract of article: Membrane .
